

my memories Project 52

:Here we are together at Week 29 of the MyMemories Project 52. I hope you are still having FUN! The best thing about this journey is that you can take the direction you want, set the pace you want. It is YOUR project and you can create it your way. I hope as you review the information contained in each week's post - that you find even a little tidbit of something that helps you along the way! This week - we look at what we can do with our projects/pages and photos once we have created them. This week - we will share some ideas on how to GIVE them! So this week - the word we will share is easy - this is where we get to GIVE something back.... Have fun with it!

GIVE • GIVE • GIVE

It is better to GIVE than to receive! That saying sure holds true when it comes to sharing our memories. Think how meaningful it is when you have a gift of a memory that you can share with a loved one. Especially those far away. Think what a treasure it is to GIVE them that special moment in a way that will last a lifetime! Make sure your photos don't end up trapped in your computer, or worse yet, collecting digital dust on a memory card still stuck in your camera! Make sure you DO something with those photos can GIVE them away! There are some GREAT custom photo gifts that you can create now right on the MyMemories.com website and use either completed pages (saved as jpegs) or photos straight out of your camera! There is a wide variety of styles and prices and there is something there to fit just about any occasion! Really, just a few quick clicks and you are DONE! It's a gift that keeps on giving! Click CUSTOM GIFTS on the MyMemories.com webpage!
