Directors Note

I've been itching to start a drawing project and am finally beginning a portrait of my youngest granddaughter. I've found that it's way too easy to get busy with so many good things, including teaching, that I run out of time to keep my own creativity sparked.

I hope you'll keep the momentum of your children's creativity going this summer, whether it's by sending them to art camp or by providing time and encouragement for them to paint, draw or create in whatever medium it is that they are motivated in!

Cindy Ives
