(Updated August 2003)

There are a wide range of resources available on the Internet to further expand on the issues presented in this program. The following list not only identifies good sources with content, it also includes gateways to other sources. It should be noted, all of the web sites referred to during the training session are also included in the list below. All of these sites have been visited and reviewed. It is impossible to be completely comprehensive given the size of the Internet. The sites included below, however, provide a good resource for local police issues related to homeland security. The URLs for the web sites are hyperlinked. If viewing this document on a computer, simply activate your Internet connection and "click" on the URL.

The Web sites are divided into the following sections:

- 1. Cyberterrorism and Computer Crime
 - Cybercrime and Cyberterrorism Generally
 - Cyber-Law
 - Cyber-Stalking
 - Hacking, Cracking, Phreaking
 - Information Warfare
 - Law Enforcement and Investigations
 - Organizations and Associations
 - Security
 - Tracking, Research, Resources
- 2. Crime Analysis and Crime Mapping
- 3. Extremist Groups—Web Sites of Groups and Information About Groups; Organized Crime/Criminal Enterprises
