Project 52

Hi again! Welcome to the MyMemories Project 52 series! This is WEEK 22! Wow, time is really flying by!! We are cruising right into summer here and with that brings some slower days and a (hopefully) less hectic pace! One thing to try to remember in your pages and in your photos is to take stock of the LITTLE THINGS. One thing to remember is to try to really zoom in and focus on the teeny things that make the photo or page special. Create a FULL FRAME, with your subject! Spend some time learning what your camera is capable of! How close can you get? How much zoom can you do? This week check out the word of the week and...

{MAGNIFY}

Get in CLOSE to get every single little freckle that the sun brings out this summer! See if you can learn some of the settings on your camera that will allow you to get super close to the action! Your manual and reading some basic camera setting instructions will help you know what your camera can do. Try to stay in focus, but in close to get every little sun-kissed freckle on that dirty little face, or up close when your favorite little one is blowing bubbles! See if you can catch a water splash! Play around a little this week! It's DIGITAL - no film to waste! Set asides some time just to try ONE NEW thing this week! It could give you some unexpected and AMAZING pictures!! You CAN do it!! You CAN LEARN to get the photos you want and will be able to cherish forever! And the best part is you can say that YOU took them! How proud will you be???????
