

my memories Project 52

Hi again! Welcome to week 26 of the MyMemories Project 52 series! Can you believe we are HALFWAY through the year already??? It's summer time here and those chilly winter days seem years away as we melt in this summertime heat! But this week, we are going to have a quick chat about this week's word! This week, we are going to look at not only HOW but WHY we take a photo! This week, we want to make sure we focus on the reason why and not just the how of it all! So, without further delay, let's get right to the word of the week and dive right in!! This week, the word is:

Question?

Have you ever stopped to think about WHY you take a picture? What story are you trying to tell? How do you want to tell it? Where did it take place and is that significant? Who will want to be a part of that story? Those are basic questions, but as we journey through our family's story they can be important questions that will help us create the lasting memory for those who come after us. Think about telling the story from your child's perspective. Think about taking a different vantage point - above or below instead of straight on when taking your pictures! Just changing WHERE you stand (or sit, or lay down) when snapping your picture and your story can take on a whole new feel!! New baby? Tell the story from the perspective of the long-time family pet and the view he might have! Gives you a whole new set of eyes! See if you can find something fun to practice on this week and see what you come up with!! Hope it's FUN!! Never hurts to QUESTION "authority"! Do your thing and see what kind of added layer you can create with it! Can't wait to see what you come up with!

More fun to come with MMS & P52
