Project 52

:WOW, we are at Week 28 of the MyMemories *Project 52* this week! Can you believe it??? I can't believe we are well into July and there is already *Back to School* and Halloween stuff up in the stores already! Time - as usual - is flying by and we have to grab the chances we have when we have them to document those little moments that pass by every day. This week, we're going to focus on a little word that can help us BIG time in our quest to preserve our family's individual story. This word is often paired with *Hide* which is what little ones will sometimes do from the camera, but this week we are going to .....

*SEEK*

This week - I want to just remind you that there are times you have to WORK a little for those images you really want. Be sure to SEEK out opportunities to capture those moments! Also, SEEK out workshops and classes that you can use to help grow your skills. Even with the most basic camera - you can LEARN to capture great photos. It takes time, it takes patience and like anything worth doing well - it's WORTH it to spend some time investing in the story you want to tell. So this week, try to seek out even just a few YouTube videos that will help you grow your skills - learn a new technique or find a new way to create those opportunities to capture those photos that make you tear up. Make it your mission to find ONE tutorial or ONE video that will show you something you didn't know! I will be talking more about an AMAZING workshop I am doing right now very soon! It's an awesome workshop that is affordable and FUN! Watch for more info coming your way soon! For now - find the stuff that's already out there waiting for you to SEEK it out!

More fun to come with MMS & *P52*
