

7. You can join the parts of a compound sentence using one or two methods. One of these methods are used when you see the conjunction and, or, but. What is the correct punctuation to use?

8. How can you figure out the general meaning for an unfamiliar word in a sentence?

9. Describe Your Feelings. Write three sentences about how you might feel when entering a strange room for the first time. Each sentence should contain a compound subject and compound predicate.

10. Write a set of instructions. Write a paragraph that explains how to reach the Masjid from your home.

11. What makes the writing of a personal narrative clear and effective?

12. The supporting sentences in a personal narrative are often expressed in what kind of order?

13. Change the following general words to specific and more specific words: Food; plant; go; and seat

14. Describe the difference between a freewriting, brainstorming, and clustering.

15. Write a sentence for the following words: conform, journalist, fortunate.

16. Write a sentence for the following words: accountant, poisonous, outrageous.

17. Write a sentence for the following words: miscellaneous, conceive, embarrass.

18. Write a sentence for the following words: hazard, applause, crimson.

19. Write a sentence for the following words: structure, appreciation, artificial.

20. Write a summary on your favorite journal writing from your notebook or from any book you have read over the summer.